The film was later dubbed into Hindi as "Heroes" in 2014. The Hindi version was released on YouTube on 31 March 2015, along with its Tamil dubbed version as "Madras". Upon release, the film received generally positive reviews. Kali (Ravi Teja) and Shankar (Suresh) are childhood friends. Kali is a rowdy but has a kind heart and always comes to the rescue of poor residents in his colony. Shankar on the other hand is very intelligent and on top of his class but stays away from games or fights and studies more than he needs to get good grades. Shankar gets into a fight with another student who started insulting him for coming from an economically poor family and bringing down the reputation of his school. Shankar goes to the principal, who asks him to finish the fight, but he refuses. He is expelled from school and they both go back home. The story revolves around how Shankar and Kali meet up again as adults.

Ravi Teja called it the "best movie of his career". Tamannaah made her debut in Telugu cinemas through "Kali-Shankar". Tamannaah worked on the film for four months and learnt dance steps and new techniques to prepare for her role as a dancer. "Kali-Shankar" was dubbed by Gopi Sunder of Epic Films in Hindi as "Heroes". It was selected to be screened Worldwide in the Indian Film Festival of Los Angeles. It was distributed by Wunderbar Films and Paramount Pictures. The film grossed $1,408,500 on its opening weekend in the United States and $11,907,470 in India and the rest of the world on its first weekend. It had a worldwide opening weekend of $13,955,970 and grossed $38,746,850 worldwide. Tamannaah received nominations for Best Actress (Critics) at SIIMA Awards for her performance in "Kali-Shankar", but lost it to Trisha Krishnan who played the lead role in "Attarintiki Daredi".
